

87th Anniversary Luncheon

HELD IN CONJUNCTION WITH PAPER WEEK

When: Monday, April 10, 2006

Where: The Waldorf-Astoria
Starlight Roof
301 Park Avenue
New York, NY 10022

Time: Noon – 2:15 p.m.

Join us for the 87th Anniversary SAPI Luncheon held in conjunction with AF&PA's Paper Week at NYC's famous hotel The Waldorf-Astoria. This event offers an excellent opportunity to entertain your customers in a world renowned "grand hotel."

The featured speaker for this event is former NYC Mayor Edward I. Koch. Mr. Koch is currently a partner in the law firm of Bryan Cave LLP. He hosts a Sunday morning call-in radio program on Bloomberg AM 1130 and is also a commentator on that same station. Mr. Koch is a weekly guest on NY1 television with Mark Green and former Senator Alfonse D'Amato, and each week he writes a political column and publishes movie reviews which appear in three newspapers. In addition to serving as the 105th Mayor of the City of New York for three terms (from 1978-1989), Koch has written a number of books which include Mayor, Politics, His Eminence And Hizzoner, All The Best, Citizen Koch, Ed Koch On Everything, and most recently, Eddie, Harold's Little Brother, a children's book, which he co-authored with his sister, Pat Koch Thaler.
