Annual Golf Outing

Thursday, August 16, 2007

This event provides an excellent opportunity for you to entertain your customers and colleagues in an outstanding setting!

Shackamaxom Golf & Country Club Scotch Plains, New Jersey

If you love Golf, swing at this opportunity to play Shackamaxom, a hidden gem in northern New Jersey originally designed by the renowned golf course architect A.W. Tillinghast.

When the course was first constructed in 1916, "Shack" was one of the longest courses in the country measuring 6,615 yards from the championship tees. It is quite simply a beautiful course with gentle hills that wrap around Lake Shackamaxom. The ninth hole, our signature hole was one of Tillinghast's first "island" greens. The hole was rated by the Metropolitan Golf Association as the toughest 9th hole in the MET area in 1990. Preserving and enhancing the original concepts of this classic golf course is part of the Shack culture.

For the money you can not find a better deal for this type of course. (www.shackamaxoncc.com)

We are limited to 60 golfers so get back to me ASAP as this event will be sold out.
